OUR CLIENTS

Our firm is experienced and big enough to deal with the biggest and most difficult challenges and small enough to do so with the personal service demanded by the close relationship we feel an auditing, accounting and advisory firm should maintain with its clients. All clients are guaranteed the attention of at least one director whose primary aim is to comprehend the client's business and scope, assess its potential, identify problems and opportunities, and to work out practical solutions.

OUR CLIENTS

We act for large public companies and for private concerns – from the sole trader to the family business and the large corporations. We believe that audit forms the foundation of strong relationships with our clients, the starting point for planning and achieving growth. Our non-corporate clients include provident funds, trade unions, charities and associations who handle vast sums of money and for whom we offer the full range of financial advice. At the same time, advice to private individuals is an important part of our business, covering all aspects of tax planning, including capital gains and inheritance tax.
